Fellowship Opportunity with the Washington Bus

Deadline-April 12

The Bus Fellowship is a ten-week paid political, social justice, and community building program for 18- to 25-year-olds from across Washington. Fellows spend the summer developing leadership skills through our robust grassroots organizing curriculum and working in the field with a local progressive campaign.

Fellows are paid a stipend of $1500, with the opportunity to apply for additional scholarships and home stays in the Seattle area. To apply for the fellowship, you must be between the ages of 18 and 25, and care about something! You can fill out a Contact Info Redacted. Once you complete the pre-application, we will contact you with the full application, which is due on April 12.

You can find out more about the Washington Bus here.

Internship Opportunity with the Washington Bus

Deadline-March 28

A Washington Bus internship is not your standard internship. Staff here get their own coffee. We provide a combination of classroom learning and hands-on experience to help you make an immediate political impact and develop your own leadership skills.

Our interns register thousands of young people to vote and engage thousands more to make sure our generation's voices are reflected in the political process. Interns work an average of 15 hours per week for 10 weeks, and receive a stipend of $625. Interns must be Seattle-based. The internship application can be found Contact Info Redacted.

Spring internships start in April, so send in your application soon!!
