The SEATTLE JOURNAL FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE (SJSJ) is an interdisciplinary, student-edited publication of Seattle University School of Law. The SJSJ is published three times per year—Summer, Winter, and Spring. For more information about the SJSJ, please visit http://digitalcommons.law.seattleu.edu/sjsj/.

Subscriptions

The annual subscription rate for two issues is $25.00 for individuals and $40.00 for institutions/organizations. The single issue rate is $15.00 for individuals and $25.00 for institutions/organizations. Washington State residents must add sales tax. For a subscription, contact the SJSJ at the address or phone number above. Subscriptions will be automatically renewed unless notification is received.

Back Issues

Back issues are available from William S. Hein & Co. Inc., 1285 Main Street, Buffalo, New York, 14209-1987, Phone: (800) 828-7571, at a price of $50.00 for a hardbound volume of issues, or $15.00 for a specific issue.

Submissions

The editor in chief welcomes unsolicited submissions, including response pieces, at the SJSJ address above. The SJSJ will consider material in different formats, including commentary, narrative, interview, and essay as well as traditional academic style.

The SJSJ follows citation guidelines from The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation (20th ed. 2015). The Chicago Manual of Style (16th ed. 2010) is the authority for punctuation and style matters not covered by The Bluebook. Merriam-Webster’s Collegiate Dictionary (11th ed. 2003) is the authority for spelling, including spacing and hyphens.

Nondiscrimination Policy

The SJSJ does not discriminate on the basis of age, sex, race, religion, national origin, familial status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or disability.
